

Postgraduate Certificate in Church School Leadership

This programme offers a unique opportunity nationally to gain a professional qualification in Church school leadership. In the context of the Church school, this three- module course has been designed, not only for those currently in leadership positions, but also for those aspiring to leadership - teachers, educationalists and other professionals involved in any of the various management roles within a school. The course has been fully endorsed by the Church of England's National Society for Promoting Religious Education and will be delivered by University staff with support from other experts in the field.

A few places are still available for November 2011.
